

New Luxair Irish website

Luxair with C&F Quadrant have just launched a new Irish website (www.luxairhoods.ie).

This comprehensive website details all the available product from the range and its interactive aspect enables the consumer to view YouTube videos of product features, installation guides and maintenance of products. Its handy store locator facility also allows the consumer find their nearest Luxair stockist.

Guide prices are also shown.

The website also allows the consumer to purchase spares and accessories direct from Luxair which will be delivered straight to their door. These include filters, bulbs, switches, motors, etc.
